

November News

It was great to see many of you at the parent teacher conferences this week. I appreciate your cooperation and support to make school a positive place for your child.

The attached book orders are due on Thursday, November 17, if you're interested in ordering. Books make great Christmas gifts and this will be the last order before Christmas. There are two different orders, but one check can be made out to Scholastic.

We will be working on double digit addition in math using a variety of methods. Please work with your child to find one or maybe two ways that make sense to them.

A few of the children have been working very hard on their math time tests by requesting extra tests to practice at home. I give them four minutes to do the time test in class. Please encourage them to use the +/- shortcuts that they have learned in math class. Also, thank you for your cooperation and support with the math Home Links. Thank you!
