Reading

AR and independent reading practice at home are an important component of reading success. Students should read every night to reinforce the strategies that are taught at school. Your child's current AR report is in their Friday Folder. Please look it over. It not only lets you know how many AR books your child is reading but how they are doing on the tests they have taken.

Thank You

I would like to thank Mr. Jennings and Mrs. Sackett for helping chaperone our trip to the Madison Symphony Orchestra and Alex Rose, Mr. Jensen, and Mr. Hosler for chaperoning our field trip to the Aldo Leopold Nature Center. I truly appreciated all of your help.

Math

Please help your child work on their basic facts. The website, xtramath.org is an excellent tool for you to use at home. This should be a fun way for your child to learn the basic facts at their own pace. We will start taking multiplication time tests next week. Keep working on addition and subtraction through the website.

Save the Date

Our Winter Program has been changed to Monday December 19. It would be great to have parents and other family members attend the program. Children always love to see their family in the audience.
