Professional Development			Glasbrenner shared that PLCs continue to do their work, though giving back three PD occurrences did affect the targeted goals. We will continue to provide PD to staff this summer. We need to build the feeling that “This is part of your job.” and provide the support. It is part of what to expect. We also want to speak to the staff handbook about what is “prep,” what is “PLC,” and what is “teaming.” The team asked about who is holding the PLCs accountable. Carla shared successes and barriers. Deb Nelson spoke to revenue limits and the lack of a C&I Director, and advocated for a person to oversee district curriculum needs. Glasbrenner summarized that we will continue to evaluate the progress. Glasbrenner also shared the Asynchronous Survey form that was sent to staff. Iausly shared that certain students were less engaged. For these days, expectations need to be carefully planned. Glasbrenner shared. The unexpected = snow, and be clear with families about what we expect.

A request from Mr. Wunnicke was included as well as the proposed curriculum template. Action was taken to accept Mr. Wunnicke’s proposal for a one year pilot of “Launching Into Aviation.” The committee will discuss again next year to accept the course beyond this pilot.
District Student Assessments			Glasbrenner reviewed the testing that is being taken this month by our students. He also asked if any committee members had questions pertaining to the “Opt Out list” that was approved at the last board meeting.
