

River Valley School District
District Administrator's Profile

Based on the job description and expectations for the District Administrator, below are the desired qualities the River Valley School District wants in the applicant.

Strong Leader

Collaborative leadership style, knowledge of curriculum and all levels of education, strategic thinker, can build a vision and plan for the district, calm demeanor but with energy to lead staff, trustworthy, advocate for change, high integrity, flexible, ability to analyze information to make decisions with a clear rationale, recognizes and grows leadership in others, leading the district in continuous improvement, manage and strengthen safe learning environments, promote teacher learning, recruitment and retention of high quality staff.

Skilled Communicator

Someone who listens to all views, open to input from stakeholders, able to clearly articulate a message, promotes effective public relations, promotes consistent and continuous communication from the district, enthusiastic attitude, build positive school and district climate.

A Sound Fiscal Steward

Has a clear and well-articulated financial strategy, understands the needs of the district, ability to plan for long-range improvement, can intelligibly explain complex budget issues to the general public.

A Relationship Builder

Ability to bring people together, accessible and visible, kind, compassionate, supportive of staff, approachable, invested in the community, advocate for teachers, honor and understand district history, ability to promote, encourage and support district initiatives.